DYNAMITE FOUND UNDER OUTRIGGER PAVILION

CASE TURNED OVER TO U. S. OFFICIALS FOR INVESTIGATION

Discovery Made Following Dance Given By Men of Submarine Flotilla—Sticks Were Wrapped in Newspaper But Lacked Percussion Caps and Fuses

Federal officials have been asked to investigate the finding of several sticks of dynamite under the dancing pavilion in the Outrigger Club grounds, Waikiki, the explosive having been discovered Sunday following a dance given in the pavilion on Saturday evening by the enlisted men of the submarine flotilla.

The dynamite was found by a prominent member of the club who has been confined to his home with illness during the last two days. Asked about the matter over the telephone by the Star-Bulletin this morning, he said he had turned the explosive over to local federal officials and had requested an investigation.

According to his story, there were no percussion caps or fuses on the dynamite. The sticks were wrapped in a piece of newspaper, he said, and a portion of the paper bore evidence of having been burned. The finding of the dynamite has been a subject of discussion among club members since last Sunday, and the opinion was expressed last night that the case should be made public.

Several theories have been drawn from the finding of the explosive. The idea that there was a deliberate plot to blow up the pavilion is scouted on the ground that had this been the aim of the person placing the dynamite under the structure, this person would have seen to it that fuses and percussion caps were attached. Others are of the opinion that such a plot might have existed, the plotter thinking that by placing the dynamite in a paper and then firing the paper, it would explode.

Others think the dynamite was placed under the pavilion by persons intending to use it later for fishing purposes, and that they forgot to take it away. Still another theory is that it might have been cached there temporarily for use in the removal of coral.

Several hundred persons attended the dance, including a large number of enlisted men from the submarine flotilla.

Bertram G. Rivenburgh, commissioner of public lands, has been designated by Director Horace M. Albright of the national park service as official representative of the federal government to acquire rights of way and such building sites as are necessary to make Kilauea, Mauna Loa and Haleakala areas practicable as national parks.

WEST FRONT IS SCENE OF BIG BATTLES

Dominating Positions on the Aisne Captured by Teutons, Says Berlin Report

BERLIN, Germany, July 26.—Heavy fighting is taking place on the west front, with the Germans gaining in several sectors, according to reports received here from army headquarters.

Dominating positions on the Aisne, northwest of Hurtlebise, were captured today after stubborn fighting, and south of Ailles 1800 meters of trenches were wrested from the French, who left 400 prisoners in the hands of victorious Germans.

A violent artillery duel is in progress along the Belgian front.

GERMANS PAY DEARLY FOR AISNE SUCCESS

PARIS, France, July 26.—Germans today re-opened assaults on the Aisne and Somme sectors, and succeeded in penetrating the trench front in several important positions, but at tremendous cost of life.

An intense artillery duel is in progress in Champagne, and several German storming parties have been repelled with staggering losses.

French troops in a smashing attack north of Auberville penetrated the German lines, and inflicted severe losses on the defenders.

INTENSE ARTILLERY DUEL ON IN FLANDERS

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, July 26.—After several weeks of comparative inaction the British guns are again roaring, and an intense artillery duel is in progress in Flanders.

German guns are replying by showering Vimy ridge with high explosive shells, and Armentieres and the British lines drawn around Lens are also being subjected to heavy bombardment.

This artillery activity on the part of the British seems to preface another smashing drive, and observers say the Germans are nervous and jumpy, not knowing where the blow is going to fall.

FIRST AMERICAN DEATH IN FRANCE CAUSED BY BOMB

AMERICAN CAMP IN FRANCE, July 26.—The first casualty since the American troops landed on French soil occurred today, when a soldier lost his hand through the premature explosion of a bomb while practising throwing.

French and American troops are drilling and digging trenches together, and Uncle Sam's boys are fast getting proficient in the new form of warfare. French instructors are on enthusiastic over the aptitude shown by their new allies, and the men are becoming quite chummy.

Perishing men are undergoing intensive training with machine guns and rifles, and officers are paying frequent visits to the French front, studying the modes of warfare at first hand.

Must Realize Seriousness, Says Idahoan

Senator Declares French Are Near Exhaustion and We Must Bear Brunt

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—Senator Borah, in the senate today, declared it was time that the nation realized the seriousness of the task America has on hand in entering the war on the side of the Entente Allies.

Viewing the almost utter collapse of the Russian armies, combined with the number of ships being submarine, and the fact that the French were nearing exhaustion, the Idaho senator said it meant millions of Americans killed, as the brunt of the fighting must eventually fall on the fresh troops forming the expeditionary forces of the United States.

Continuing, Senator Borah said it ought to be made clear that America's entry into the war was for the purpose of upholding America's principles, and not for the democratization of Europe, nor for the purpose of helping the French.

America, he asserted, must discontinue the fight when her interests had been safeguarded.

WOMAN EMPLOYS CLEVER RUSE TO EVADE ASSAULT

Consents to Go Auto Riding With D. Ferreira, Jockey, Then Calls Police

A clever ruse saved a young and comely Portuguese woman from a serious assault this morning, it is believed by the police, when she managed to evade alleged advances made to her by Domingo Ferreira, a jockey.

The young woman, charges that Ferreira gained entrance to her home on Kalaheka avenue, while she was alone, under the pretense of having a message for her from her parents. The complaint states that he then grasped her, kissed her, and otherwise attempted to force his attentions upon her.

Realizing that she was helpless in opposing his strength she pretended partial acquiescence until she was

OFFICERS MAY RETAIN THEIR COMMISSIONS

Washington Order is Taken to Mean That There Will Be No Mobilization

National guard officers in Hawaii may attend the reserve corps training camp at Schofield Barracks without resigning from their guard organizations. This notification from the war department, received today at army headquarters, is taken to mean that the Hawaii National Guard is not to be mobilized.

News that guard officers may attend the camp without resigning their commissions will be received with interest here for the matter is one over which there has been much concern. It has been generally conceded that the rule adopted in the states would hold good for this territory, and that such officers would be required to surrender their commissions before entering the Schofield camp.

In fact three or four officers have already given up their commissions, these men being among the 10 chosen by the Hawaiian department to train in the camp at the Presidio, and later ordered to remain here.

On June 28 a cable query was sent from here, however, for a statement as to the status of officers of the guard who were hoping to enter training. The answer, received today says: "Reference your cablegram June 23 as Hawaiian National Guard is not scheduled to be called or drafted of officers attending training camps not required to resign their national guard commissions."

One question that is bothering officials now is how inclusive this order is. Does it mean that officers may still keep their national guard commissions even though taken into active federal service? The general belief is that the retention of commissions applies only to the time these men are in the camp, and that the commissions will have to be relinquished when they join the reserve corps. No definite information is had on this, however.

EXTRA

AUTHORITIES IN NO HURRY KNOWING HE CANNOT GET AWAY

(Special Associated Press Cable to Star-Bulletin)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 26.—The arrest of H. A. Schroeder of Honolulu, secretary to Georg Rodiek, ex-German consul at Honolulu is due soon, for his alleged connection with the Hindu conspiracy for which 125 persons were recently indicted. An indictment against Schroeder was issued here by the federal grand jury July 12.

The government authorities are in no hurry to take Schroeder into custody.

Schroeder is hemmed and the government agents have no fear that he can escape their net. When they want him they will give the word. Perhaps next week the word will go forth.

INFANTRYMEN SHOOT GUNNERS TO OBTAIN HORSES FOR FLIGHT

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
LONDON, England, July 26.—The Russian collapse is described by eyewitnesses as something appalling. Never before since the commencement of the war have Russian armies in the field had such enormous numbers of men and wealth of equipment with which to prosecute the campaign.

Thousands of British and French heavy guns have been rushed to swell the equipment of Slav troops, and armored cars and airplanes have been doing service, but all to no avail, the spirit of disaffection seemingly having utterly demoralized the men.

Batteries of artillery, which had been carefully placed at points of vantage, have been rendered useless by the rebellious infantry, who, in their retreat, shot down their own gunners in order to obtain the horses. Horses were also killed in a wanton spirit of revenge, as the gunners have been the most loyal arm of the Russian service. All the guns were left behind and fell into the hands of the advancing Teutons.

PETROGRAD, Russia, July 26.—Conditions along the long eastern battle front seem to be in the same chaotic conditions that has characterized that line almost since the latest revolt.

Premier Kerensky today issued a statement in which he says the fundamental problem is the safety of the country at whatever sacrifice it may demand. The extreme death penalty, he declares, is the only punishment for cowards and traitors who surrender the army to certain destruction at the hands of the enemy.

News received here today report a victory for Rumanian and Russian armies. The Rumanians report the capture of 1,000 men, 33 cannon, 17 machine guns, 10 bombs and much booty during heavy fighting on Tuesday and Wednesday, while the Slav commander reports 1,000 prisoners and 24 cannon captured from the Austro-German forces.

Governor Stankevich has resigned his office as governor of Finland, declining to recognize the independence declaration recently passed by the Finnish legislature.

AMERICAN SHIP SUNK BY U-BOAT

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—The British admiralty reports the sinking, presumably by a submarine, of the American ship Augustus Welt. The crew are safe.

Following close upon the recent developments in San Francisco in connection with the Hindu conspiracy plots, having a direct bearing on Honolulu, it became known this morning that the home of H. Augustus Schroeder, an employee of Hackfeld & Co., and secretary to Georg Rodiek, under indictment for alleged activity in the conspiracy, was searched a few weeks ago by government officials for hidden arms and certain correspondence.

Judging from the fact that Schroeder is still at liberty, it is assumed by those who know of the search, that he is not a party to the conspiracy.

Through its attorneys, Andrews and Pittman, the Hawaiian Gazette Co. filed in circuit court this afternoon its answer to the complaint in the $10,000 alleged libel suit brought by E. H. P. Wolter. Wolter holds a news article published in the Advertiser contained statements detrimental to the Occidental hotel. The Advertiser, in its answer, says that "under other defenses it will rely on the truth of the article mentioned in said complaint."
